

Where Are They Now?

SJUMC Choral Scholar graduates: 2014

Cayla Bryson is currently singing with the Nashville Chamber Chorus directed by Angela Tipps. She is an employee with a small insurance company while continuing to prepare repertoire for future auditions. Immediately following graduation, she worked as a counselor for NYSSSA (New York State Summer School of the Arts) School of Choral Studies in Fredonia, NY. I miss you all. I will definitely stop by the church when I am in town.

John McDonald is in his second year towards a doctorate in choral conducting at the University of Missouri, Kansas City Conservatory of Music and Dance. He is the choir director at Immanuel Lutheran Church of Kansas City. John and his wife live in Overland Park, Kansas, and just welcomed their firstborn, John Tyler Jr., on July 24th. It's good to hear from you! I love that you're keeping in touch with your ECU choral scholars! Say "hi" to Dr. Ward and the choir for me! Thanks and take care.
